Dr. Harvey, medical physical director of McGill is on the permanent committee and figures as chairman of the general committee to make arrangements for the approaching Convention. Besides the regular papers, addresses and discussions on a wide variety of subjects will be delivered, notice of which will appear in the Daily; the Convention will enjoy a round of winter sports which should prove a rare treat.

The personnel of the local committees is as follows:

AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS VIE IN PRAISING SENIOR HOCKEY TEAM OF OLD MCGILL

Press of Boston and New York Regards McGill as the Finest Amateur Team in the World

An interesting and in some cases amusing feature of the American tour was the various newspaper reports of the games. Excerpts from these will show what kind of an impression the McGill team made on the southern critics and at the same time what kind of an attitude is taken with regard to hockey.

Advance press notices both in New York and Boston contained items of news which should prove of peculiar interest to all McGill men. The N.Y. World for example hailed McGill under a double column headline—"Canadian Intercollegiate Champions here to-night." The "World" then went on to state that the McGill team was without doubt "the best amateur hockey aggregation in Canada." "The forward quartette holds the record for taking the puck down the ice, each man being a speed skater of international reputation." Such statements are characteristic of the indiscriminate bouquets McGill received from its southern press critics.

The game against the Intercolonial Club of Boston on Thursday, December 28th, brought forth a number of accounts unique in the extreme. The Boston American appeared under the heading, "McGill beats Intercolonials in slashing overtime hockey game"; sub-heading: "Score was 4 to 2 and the game abounded in thrilling dashes, hard driving of the puck, and sensational stops at the net by goal-tend Bray." The following are some extracts from the long article which followed:

Hockey of the most strenuous type was played at the Boston Arena last night when the McGill University team of Montreal defeated the Intercolonials of this city, 4 to 2.

Matches have been played in the rink where a better brand of hockey has been displayed, but never has a game produced more thrills than the one last night. Sensational work was contributed by many men in the game. The Intercolonials died hard, but the McGill collegians will have a difficult time finding a tougher opponent than the local club seven proved last night.

The work of the men was more of the individual style than the combination brand, but at the former line the Canadians proved their ability in no mean fashion.

The most sensational player on the ice was Scott of the collegians. This tow-headed forward was a perfect stick handler and a strategist of the highest type when it required headwork to get past the local forwards. With his short circling to either side and his dodging ability it was he who put life into the McGill team when it appeared the visitors has shot their bolt. Hughes at point was a defence of no mean ability. He jabbed the puck away from the club forwards in neat style, although his most effective work was in spoiling combinations of the locals when they were nearing his goal.

This big fellow, weighing 200 pounds, went pell mell into opponents; something generally fell and it was not Rankin.

The Canadians, as usual, outskated the locals at nearly every play.

The Boston Herald said in part: "The most exciting hockey game of the season was witnessed at the Arena last evening, when the McGill University seven of Montreal defeated the Intercolonial Club 4 to 2, in an overtime game. From the start to finish the game was full of exciting and spectacular incidents, and that the teams were very evenly matched was demonstrated when they were called on to play for 10 minutes after the usual 20-minute periods had been played.

It was the style of game that pleased the spectators. The good old-fashioned "shiny" style of play was in evidence throughout and at times the contest waxed pretty rough. At the outset the play was fast and good, but as the men tired they began to mix things up, and real hockey was laid aside.

Hughes was a wonder on the defence and frequently carried the puck into the Intercolonial territory and came close to scoring.

The New York game was the cause of an equally wide variety of press accounts and criticisms. The "Sun" account was probably the most comprehensive. We reprint excerpts:

NEW YORK SUN.

The McGill University hockey players from Canada increased their laurels last night in the St. Nicholas Skating Rink by adding the scalps of the Crescent Athletic Club team to those of the Boston Athletic Association and will return to Canada elated with their successes. It was hockey as hockey should be played, fast, clean, and abounding in brilliant passes. There were lots of hard checks during the contest and many players hit the ice hard but they took and gave good naturedly and there was no evidence of ill feeling at any time.

McGill defeated Boston 4 to 2 in an easy game. Boston had previously defeated the New York Athletic Club

The Daily will give a prize for the best title for the following novelette. The answers must be sent in before the end of January to the Editor.

No, I do not believe in fatalism, it is a snare and a delusion; who are we that we should presume to blame our shortcomings and failures to destiny. Destiny, pshaw! It is only the weak who put their trust in the blind goddess Chance.

Man enough I am to admit that it is my own fault I have fallen so far. Happiness, what is happiness? I do not pity myself but I have to admit, when I consider my present circumstances in the light of my past condition I am amused.

Who can define it? Chesterloo might, it is true, for he is indeed clever, although he does worship an idol when he gets it. True, Pygmalion fell in love with his statue, but one can forgive him for it was a masterpiece.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating and although I admit that I am as it were lying in a bed which somebody else helped to make for me, still, I am somewhat of a philosopher and like Orogenes I am content. Ah! if we could only model and regulate our lives on proverbs. There we have all the wisdom of all the ages condensed into some few hundred petty sayings. This is the age of consideration, but unfortunately along these lines it has never been tried.

True, sometimes proverbs contradict one another, for instance: "Look before you leap," and "He who hesitates is lost," but, on the whole one might go farther and fare worse. To illustrate the application of my argument let me quote you a little rhyme:

Burglar found a door unlatched;
Thought he'd get away unscratched;
Don't count chickens till they're hatched;

So the sage has said,

Soft and silent as the tomb
Stole into the dining room,
Then his soul was filled with gloom;
Forks and knives of lead,
As it happened by and bye,
Burglar found a piece of pie,
Which he thought he'd like to try;
Hungry human mouse.

When the servant came next day,
Dead upon the floor he lay,
He ate the pie and passed away;
In a boarding house.

"No," said his companion, "I do not agree with you, I believe that an immutable destiny has guided my steps and that initiative has been merely one of Fate's instruments.

"How else can I account for the fact that at every stage in my career a corner has played its part except on the assumption that round the corner my destiny lay waiting for me.

"When but a lad I was forced to sell papers on a street corner, owing to the fact that my father, a skilled card player, who marked the corners of his cards, was cornered by the police. Later on in life, when I was in a broker's office I was lurking in a corner and overheard a conversation between two prominent stock manipulators which enabled me to get into a corner in stocks and make my fortune.

"I first met my wife in the corner of a theatre box and proposed to her in a cozy corner. Indeed Fate leads me on and I ask you what adventure we may not meet round yon corner of the road. A corner is often a small and insignificant thing in the rush and bustle of our life, but who knows what small trifle happiness and prosperity or their reverse may depend on.

"I will answer you in your own vein and illustrate my argument by quoting you a little poem:

THE MISSING HAIRS.

Before a looking glass there stood
A young Adonis fair,
A benedict of but two weeks a-brush-ing back his hair

And to his wife in the next room
In accents sad he called:

"Alas my dear, my lovely duck, I fear I'm getting bald."

His honey babe came gently in and softly kissed him on

The very small and shining spot whence those few hairs had gone,

"Sweet ducky dear, believe me now
for what I say is true,

When first I saw that you would mould then I accepted you.

"You ask the cause, the reason why,
the answer isn't deep,

Then first my love, I was quite sure that I your love could keep,

For you were fair and fickle sweet,
and jealousy it galled,

But now no other charms I fear,
for you are getting bald."

SUPPORT THE HOCKEY TEAM

There is still a senior intercollegiate championship to be decided. In fact the most interesting and in some respects the most coveted athletic honour of the whole season is a matter of speculation as in what university it will eventually reside. This speculation will soon be able to nourish itself on some hard facts. Meanwhile we must prepare and wait.

The McGill Hockey squad is without any doubt the largest and most versatile on record at the University. For every position there are several candidates of whom it will be difficult to choose the best. The men are all working hard and by Friday should be in the best of trim. The trip to Boston and New York did much for the squad in the matter of practice. It showed also that the men are able to rise to an occasion and acquit themselves creditably under unfavorable conditions. Beyond this, however, the trip meant little more. To say that we shall land the Intercollegiate Championship because we won in the States is as absurd as it will be fatal. Next Friday will bring us an entirely different proposition. Even so, the squad is improving steadily and the McGill seven will by no means prove a run-away victory for Queen's. What is now needed more than anything else is good support and lots of it.

The football and track teams received splendid support from all McGill men. Never before were enthusiasm and spirit so prevalent. With the same kind of spirit for the hockey team we shall have gone a good part of the way to top place. The Rooters' Club will be reorganized as soon as possible. It may not be on hand for the first game, however, so it will be all the more necessary for every student to make a point of being present with a good supply of voice and colors.

Come on, McGill men, turn out to see the team practise and become actively interested! ABOVE ALL, REMEMBER FRIDAY NIGHT. YOUR PRESENCE AT THE GAME WILL HELP THE TEAM IMMEASURABLY. A first class exhibition of senior amateur hockey is assured. LET IT BE A VICTORY FOR THE RED AND WHITE!

EDITORIAL NOTES.

While it is the very laudable aim and ambition of modern universities particularly on this continent to concern themselves almost exclusively with the practical equipment of their undergraduates for after-life, it is no small honour for some few to be able to boast of a select band of scholars who are quite content to have their life work identified with the subjects they represent. It is in classical scholarship that the highest fruit of such an attitude is possible. The truest expression of such scholarship is revealed in the successful translation of English verse into Latin verse. The Arts Faculty of McGill may well be proud of a recent accomplishment of Mr. S. B. Slack of the department of classics. Mr. Slack has long enjoyed a world-wide reputation as a classical authority but the flower of his maturer scholarship is only now being recognized. A translation of Tennyson's "Sir Galahad," done into Latin Elegiac verse, and published by a Montreal firm for private circulation only marks a distinct epoch in classical scholarship on this continent. It is very rare to find such a high poetic insight side by side with a thorough mastery of classical idiom and expression.

The rival political camps are organizing for the struggle. This evening there will be a mass meeting of Liberals to choose an executive and to discuss general policy. Tomorrow night at the same hour the Conservatives will meet in a big party rally preparatory to the opening session of the McGill Parliament on Saturday evening. Indications are that there will be a battle royal throughout the session. No smaller parties have as yet signified an intention of entering the arena. This will eradicate any possibility of a "tail swinging" power such as existed last year. The Mock Parliament idea is a very commendable one. It calls forth a great deal of latent forensic talent and at the same time is an educational factor of no mean value.

THE VAUDEVILLE SHOW

PROCEEDS SATISFACTORILY

COMMITTEE SATISFIED THAT PERFORMANCE WILL BE A GOOD ONE. — FIFTEEN ACTS.

As the second term advances, interest in the Annual Vaudeville Show is bound to increase. This year there is every promise of a record-breaking performance. Mr. Ludington in a special interview yesterday said that things were progressing in a satisfactory manner. Fifteen acts are now in preparation and these afford an excellent variety. The majority, however, are from Science. The committee would prefer to see the other faculties come through with a better representation.

The musical numbers should be a feature. There will be at least one act representing the Conservatorium, and under the direct or indirect supervision of Dr. Perrin. What promises to be a rare treat will be a musical trio (cello, piano, and violin) from the Orchestra. This trio will confine itself to high class music and will give no vent to what Mr. Ludington most aptly termed as "harmonized syncopation."

There will be a regular minstrel show with some striking features of local colour. Mr. Harry Rogers has this in charge and we can look for something unique.

Mr. Henri Routledge, the famous Oriental impersonator and alien imitator will perform in his favorite Chinese role. All who were present at the first Union football smoker will remember what a side-splitting exhibition Mr. Routledge gave on that occasion. This act is bound to be sparkling with wit and cleverness.

The staff of the Daily is being held for an act which should materialize in an interesting manner.

Owing to the pressure of organizing work, Messrs. Ludington and Hamer do not contemplate acting this year. This seems rather a pity, when one considers the success which both achieved last year. If necessary however, they will be seen in action. A couple of Arts students, Messrs. Bridgeman and Penny are working on a humorous sketch which is rumored as sensational.

THE CONSERVATIVE PREMIER ANNOUNCES HIS CABINET

Big Party Rally To-morrow—Bold Policy of Sane Imperialism the Key Note

The Conservatives of McGill will hold a big rally tomorrow at seven o'clock in Strathcona Hall. Premier MacNaughton will announce his complete slate of ministers and commissioners. As the material at his disposal is large and versatile, it is not surprising that the Premier has experienced no small difficulty in choosing his cabinet colleagues for the second session of the McGill Parliament. Those who remember the incidents which contributed to the downfall of the Liberals in the last session, will look forward with more than ordinary pleasure to the renewal of hostilities at an early date. Reciprocity was debated at great length and finally defeated. The Liberals Naval Policy was also looked upon with disfavor. The debates on this question were of an unusually high order. The naval question will probably be revived and this time positive legislation will come from the Conservative ranks. It will be interesting to watch the progress of events. The Government will be a strong one in every respect but the opposition will be a worthy opponent at all times.

The Conservative party at McGill stands for great principles of practical imperialism which are quite consistent with the enjoyment of a due amount of autonomy. Premier MacNaughton and his cabinet are already at work on a naval policy which will prove a hard nut for the Opposition to crack. The advent of the Conservative party will be the signal for renewed activities along all lines that contribute to the upbuilding of an enduring fabric of empire.

LATE SPECIAL.

Premier MacNaughton announced the personnel of his cabinet late last night. It is as follows:

HON. R. R. HOLLAND — Minister

EARLY MORNING SPECIAL.

The Hon. E. S. Newcomb has been appointed Speaker of the House of Commons by the Government. His definite acceptance has not been received but is expected by wire at any moment.

Keep Friday night open. Queen's vs. McGill at the Arena will open the Senior Intercollegiate Hockey Schedule. Turn out and root for Old McGill.

Prince Rupert, British Columbia, the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, is going a pace, and for a young city the business now done there is remarkable. During the month of September there were 80 steamers called at the port and 81 departures.

Thirty baritones are out for places on the University of Indiana Glee Club.

LIBERALS WILL ORGANIZE FOR MCGILL PARLIAMENT

Meeting in Strathcona Hall To-Night—Party Confident of Victory—Important Matters Will be Discussed

LOCAL PARTY STANDS FOR GREAT PRINCIPLES.

To-night there will be a big meeting of the Liberal party, in Strathcona Hall, at 7.15 p.m. The meeting has been called to organize the Liberals of McGill for the Mock Parliament, to elect a leader, plan up a platform, etc. All Liberals should make a point of being present. The proceedings will be short, but interesting.

At 8.15 to-night there will be a great meeting, organized by the Young Liberal Club of Montreal, at the Monument National. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will speak, and addresses will also be given by the Hon. George P. Graham, the Hon. Sydney Fisher and other prominent Liberals. Efforts are being made to have seats reserved at the Monument for the Liberals who may wish to go on there from the meeting in Strathcona Hall.

The first meeting of the Mock Parliament is scheduled for Saturday next. It is therefore necessary for the Liberals to organize as soon as possible. The Conservatives are already organized, and have all the advantages that the possession of power and the distribution of patronage can give them. But the Liberals hope to put up a vigorous opposition and even, if possible, to wrest the reins of government from Mr. MacNaughton and his satellites.

The Conservatives are strong this year in oratorical talent. With such men as Mr. MacNaughton, Mr. Murray, Mr. Holland, Mr. Farthing and Mr. Newcomb on the Government Ministerial benches, things should certainly hum. The Liberals, however, have several good speakers who, though somewhat younger and more inexperienced than their opponents, are sure to give a good account of themselves in the coming struggle.

The Liberal party is the party of progress. With its rule Canada prospered as she never prospered before. But the greatest principle of Liberalism is its championship of the cause of the common people as opposed to the wealthy and the powerful. Its viewpoint is summed up in two famous sentences of Mr. Gladstone:—

"The Liberal policy is trust in the people, qualified by prudence; the Conservative policy is distrust in the people, qualified by fear."

"Depend upon it, it is in the masses of the people that the deepest foundations of true life reside."

"Keeping in view such lofty principles as these, the Liberal party cannot fail of success in the long run."

INTERESTING SIDELIGHTS ON HOCKEY SITUATION

VARSITY WILL HAVE FORMIDABLE TEAM.

With the hockey season now in full swing, speculations are rife as to which of the Intercollegiate teams looks most like the pennant winner. McGill is perhaps the dark horse entered in the coming race, since the team is practically a new organization, and they have not yet played any matches by which their real strength can be measured. Winning three games as they did in the States is something to be proud of, particularly when they had not had the opportunity of good severe preparatory practice. But it is generally conceded that Eastern American hockey is not in the same class as the Canadian college game.

With good, hard practice and the earnest and united support of the whole college, Manager Roberts and his squad will give a good account of themselves in the coming struggle.

At Toronto enthusiasm over this season's hockey runs high. Gordon MacLaren, a former Vancouver boy has been appointed Manager and in conjunction with Coach Galley and Captain Frith, he has been busy getting new players into line. The Toronto team will probably line up as follows: goal, Parker; point, Ger-

Time and again Smith would swoop down his wing, and instead of shooting at the opportune moment, would skate into the corner.

Thompson is one of the hardest workers on the team, but there is room for improvement on his checking back.

A couple of times Bill Hughes brought the puck right out in front of the nets. Many a goal has been scored as a result of this grave mistake. Bill needs to watch this.

Keendill, Med. 16, ought to catch the Intermediate team. He played City League in Ottawa last year.

In keeping with the general surrounding of the Chateau Laurier, the new $2,000,000.00 hotel, constructed by the Grand Trunk Railway System at Ottawa, the pictures for the bedrooms have been purchased, and consist of some of the best reproductions of famous masterpieces from the London, Paris and Berlin galleries. They will be framed in moulding that will harmonize with the fittings of the several floors, including Louis XV, Louis XVI and Colonial styles. Care and great taste has been used in the selection of the pictures so that they will add to the cheerfulness of this magnificent hotel.

NOTES ON THE PLAYERS

SOME CANDID CRITICISM.

Bowie will be given a try-out at left wing.

Wilson is effective in bringing the puck down but he follows back like a snail. This applies to the rest of the forward line and the coach must remedy this defect.

It was Mann's first game in senior company and "Shortie" had his nerve with him all the way.

Rankin plays half way up the ice. His position is cover point—not rover. He should use his body with better effect.

SENIOR HOCKEY PRACTICE TO-NIGHT

There will be a senior hockey practice at the Arena tonight between 7 and 8 o'clock. Strenuous hockey from start to finish will be the order of the day. This work-out will be of great importance in view of Friday night's game with Queen's. There is a big bunch of material and keen competition for all positions is anticipated.

The following are requested by the executive to be on the ice at the Arena tonight at seven o'clock sharp: Hall, Warwick, Mann, Hughes, Rankin, Masson, Timmins, Smith, Bowie, Wilson, Thompson, Ray, McGill, Williamson, Ryley, Scott, Davidson and Dunlop.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION PHOTO.

The group photo of the Athletic Association Executive will be taken at Rice's Studio, Wednesday at one o'clock. It is absolutely necessary for all members to be on hand because postponement is out of the question.

McGill students are frequently honored in being accorded special privileges by virtue of their association with this University, and a special invitation is being extended to them to attend the above concert by offering reserved seats at a reduced price. ## MCGILL'S WATER POLO TEAMS COMPLETE LEAGUE SEASON

Make Excellent Showing Against First Class Teams—New Material in Evidence—Intercollegiate Looks Easy

Though neither the McGill Seniors nor Juniors succeeded in winning their respective league championships the season was on the whole, a decided success.

The Seniors played splendid polo throughout the season, only being defeated twice, their old and unbeaten opponents, the Montreal Swimming Club, again proving themselves too good for McGill. The positions of the five teams in the Senior League were as follows:

	W.	L.	G.	P.
Montreal S. C.	8	0	88	8
McGill S. C.	6	2	84	7
M.A.A.A. S. C.	3	5	35	31
Nautique	2	6	16	17
C.P.R. A. A.	1	7	24	7

It is understood that the M. S. C. intend dropping out of the league next year, in which case McGill should stand an excellent chance of winning the championship.

Most of the Intermediate team were raw beginners when the season opened, and it was not until the season was nearly to its close that they began to show their form. Unless the team is broken up next year they should stand a good chance of pulling off the championship.

The position of the six clubs in the Intermediate League were as follows:

	W.	L.	G.	P.
M. A. A. A.	10	0	116	21
M. S. C.	8	2	109	36
McGill S. C.	4	6	47	8
Nautique S. C.	4	6	63	18
Laurentian S. C.	3	7	39	22

SENIOR TEAM.

Phil Skelton (Capt.) goal, has played for McGill for three seasons, and is one of the best in the league. Lee Smith, defence, has played for two seasons for the Seniors, and was on the Intermediate Championship team of 1909. Manager of Swimming Club Sid Baldwin, defence, a new man from the West, is a very fast swimmer whose game will improve with more experience. S. B. DeHart, forward, one of the old stand-bys of the McGill team, and one of the best forwards of the game, is a very strong shot.

Frank McGill, centre, a new man this season; a very high class player, led the team in scoring and was second in the league, with a total of 28 goals; also a member of the swimming team.

Peter Buckley, forward, also a new man, has shown considerable class, but is accustomed to the English game; will improve with more experience of the Canadian game.

Fil Coy, spare defence of Senior team; on the Intermediate Championship team of 1909.

K. Darling, forward, one of last year's Seniors, but could only play one game this season.

INTERMEDIATE TEAM.

Art McKay, goal: A new man who shows great promise; will probably make the Senior team next year.

R. G. Hodge, defence: Played for Toronto University in 1909, but was only able to play in a few games. Should have no difficulty in making the Senior team next year.

C. Crosley, defence: A new man this season; useful in defence but very slow with the ball.

R. C. Redman, centre (Capt): A very fast man, and led the Intermediate team in scoring, with 15 goals.

F. E. Pengeley: A new forward who is also improving rapidly and should be a useful man next year.

G. H. Gilchrist: Another new forward; will improve with more speed, as he handles the ball well.

DISABLED UNDERGRADS ARE ON THE MEND

We are glad to be able to announce that Mr. Mais, captain of the Intermediate Football team and well-known as a keen sport, is at last able to leave the hospital. Mr. Mais sustained a severe injury in October and since then has endured much suffering with a characteristically plucky spirit. It will be a month before he can walk around with freedom. Meanwhile he must use crutches.

Mr. Cox of Science '14 has not been so fortunate. His leg was fractured in a place which is peculiarly difficult to knit. Under the circumstances, however, the physicians report favorable progress. In a few weeks he should be able to get around a little. For the present he has the sincere sympathy of all McGill men.

Mr. H. A. McNaughton, exchange editor of the Daily, has been in the hospital for a month fighting off an impending attack of typhoid. His progress during the last few days has been more than satisfactory, so he can expect to be on his legs in a week's time at the latest.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

3 to 2, so the Crescent men figure out that their team is a little better at present than their local rivals, the Mercury foot wearers.

A large crowd greeted the players and such enthusiasts as Robert J. Hall, W. F. Bass, Bill Dobby, Dr. W. S. Simmons, Commodore M. W. Houck, Beo Rhodes, George Phillips and many others were on hand to watch the game and size up the local team. The Crescent team, resplendent in new white sweaters, were first on the ice and were warmly greeted. The McGill men followed. They wore odd looking uniforms of red and white bars. A crowd of rooters headed by Lieut. Clifford Sifton accompanied the team and they made the echoes ring with their long cheers.

The "New York Herald" was unusually eloquent and vivid in its account of the game.

With little more than half a minute left to play, Canada's intercollegiate hockey champions from McGill University caged the goal that defeated the Crescent Athletic Club team, local Amateur League Champions, in the at St. Nicholas' Rink last night. The score ended 4 to 3 after a stubborn battle that bristled with exciting incidents in both halves.

EVENING TELEGRAM.

With the very start of the game McGill carried the playing to the Crescents. The Brooklyn clubmen were early placed on the defensive, but not for long. The unexpected speed of their opponents from across the border appeared to dazzle the local contingent at the outset, but they soon recovered and succeeded in time and again working the disk to within striking distance of the stage by brilliant, but mostly individual rushes up the ice.

The McGill boys announced that Mann, their goal tender, was a new man being tried out. For such he played an excellent game, and it can truthfully be said that it was his stopping which saved the Canadians from returning to Montreal defeated instead of victorious.

"Skinch" Scott, who played rover for the visitors, is one of the best hockey players seen in this city as a member of a Canadian amateur seven. His stick handling is wonderful and his skating no less. He is a little weak at shooting.

NEW YORK AMERICAN.

It was an international championship match. McGill, amateur champions of Canada, in the very last minute of play snatched victory from the local title-holders, a septette that has as much right as any other to the championship of the United States. The game was somewhat rough. Doc Campbell, of the Crescents, a recent importation from the Dominion, insisted on playing the Canadian brand, and McGill returned it with spirit in kind.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

The McGill University hockey team, champion amateur seven of Canada, nosed out the Crescent Athletic Club combination in an exciting game at the St. Nicholas Skating Rink last night. The final score was 4 goals to 3, McGill tallying the decisive point fifteen seconds before the end of the second half.

The third game of the series against the B.A.A. disappointed the dopesters of the local press at least as far as the "Boston American" was concerned. Here are a few quotations which are happily not characteristic of the American press attitude in general.

THE BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN DEC. 31, 1911.

By Ted Parke. (A famous critic.) One of the largest crowds in the history of the Arena gathered to watch the contest, and the audience was decidedly partisan. Canadian and American were nothing loath to voice their sympathies, and one young lady roofer kept the stands in a continuous laugh by her repeated admonitions and bits of advice to the visiting players.

GAME LONG DELAYED.

Captain Sargent proceeded to hold it up still more by demanding a new puck and this being brought forth in all its glory the game went on.

Their defence proved as effective as against the intercolonials while the forwards played a more dashing game following the puck through thick and thin and twice scoring by their alertness, picking the puck up near the goal and shooting when some B. A. A. man had lost it.

Their stick work was clever and they skated fast, but there was little or no team work on their part. Boston exhibited little team work, and the scores came on what may be called simply individual flashes of brilliancy, although two men figured in each score.

Incidentally the mountain of flesh called Rankin, at cover point for McGill, got his bumps last night, and several times was sent on his back with a hard crack. Leslie hit him so hard that his nose bled and he had to retire for a while.

The Boston Sunday Globe reviewed the game quite fairly.

BOSTON SUNDAY GLOBE.

MONTREAL WINS ITS THIRD GAME IN 50 HOURS.

McGill University hockey team defeated the B. A. A. seven before a bumper crowd at the Arena last evening, in a game brimming over with action. The Montreal men were playing their third game inside of 50 hours, but were even faster and more aggressive than when they took the intercolonial team into camp in an overtime match on Thursday.

After seemingly having played themselves out, the McGill men came back as strong as at the start of the game and took the offensive, adding two more goals, Smith shooting one and Thompson the other, both coming as the result of team play.

The Sunday Herald thought that fast skating precluded combination plays.

BOSTON SUNDAY HERALD.

The fast skating of the McGill team made team work on their part practically impossible.

The playing of Capt. Sargent and that of Smith for the Montreal team was worthy of note.

Taken on the whole the press notices were very fair and showed a good spirit. American writers are beginning to understand how to handle a hockey game. Their little idiosyncrasies are more amusing than harmful. One paper recounted the manner in which Wilson of McGill shot from "the centre of the court." "Caging the puck" and "bagging birds" are phrases common to almost all press reports.

MCGILL MUSICAL CLUB SECURES FINE INSTRUCTOR

OUTLOOK FOR SEASON EXCELLENT—SECRETARY MORGAN MAKES SPECIAL EXHORTATION.

Members and candidates for the Club will be glad to hear that the services of Mr. Peate, Montreal's well-known Mandolin Club leader, have been secured for the season. To be able to secure the services of a man of Mr. Peate's ability is a great boost for the Club indeed.

Music of the right kind, with lots of life in it, has been secured, so the first practice will be held under Mr. Peate's leadership in Strathcona Hall on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

However, to make this club the success that is anticipated for it this year, it is necessary for every man with playing qualities at all to turn out and try for it. Concert time and the vaudeville show are approaching, fellows, so we must all hustle and get into good shape. Remember there are three or four concerts coming our way this year and a couple of these are out of town, but we must get into shape.

Through a misunderstanding it was announced in a previous issue that Mr. Genest had been secured but this is entirely a mistake.

Remember, Wednesday at 5 o'clock at the Hall!

BOXING CLUB PROSPECTS SHOW MUCH PROMISE

The Boxing Club members are settling down to work, for the University Championship meet is to be held in less than a month, probably on Friday, February 2nd. It looks, by the way, as if the Club would live up to its reputation for giving valuable prizes. Dr. F. W. Harvey and Dr. O'Connor, who donated cups last year, have promised to do so again, and it is certain that a number of others will also be forthcoming. An intercollegiate contest is also to be held this year. At a meeting last month between representatives from McGill, Toronto and Queen's an intercollegiate Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Union was formed. The meet will be held towards the end of February in Toronto.

ASSISTANT MANAGERSHIP DEFINITELY ACCEPTED

HOCKEY CLUB EXECUTIVE IS NOW COMPLETE.

Mr. "Bud" Argue has at last been prevailed upon to accept the assistant manager of the Senior Hockey team. "Bud" was not anxious at first to take on this job but a great deal of pressure was brought to bear on him and the result is that all is well. It is no mean testimony to the popularity and ability of Mr. Argue that a petition signed by over a hundred undergraduates influenced the Council to decline to accept his resignation.

PROF. LEACOCK SPEAKS AT TORONTO SATURDAY

POPULAR AND VERSATILE MCGILL PROFESSOR WILL RE-VISIT HIS ALMA MATER.

Professor Leacock will address the undergraduates of University College, Toronto, on Saturday evening. The system of exchanging speakers inaugurated last year by Toronto, Queen's and McGill is bearing great fruit. McGill students will remember with pleasure the address of Dr. Dyde of Queen's last session.

Professor Leacock is an alumnus of Toronto University and as such will have a special appeal to his Alma Mater. He has, however, become so intimately identified with McGill in every way that we feel more than an equal claim on him.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Station, formerly known as Fiddle Creek, mile 997.8 west of Winnipeg has been changed to Miette Hot Springs. It will be in this locality that the first of the Grand Trunk Pacific Mountain hotels will be erected and is within seven or eight miles of the Miette Hot Springs that are situated just beyond the famous Roche Miette Mountain which looms up to the west of this station.

The whole of the territory in the vicinity of the Miette Hot Springs Station will, without doubt, become one of the greatest meccas in America for the ever increasing tourist traffic with the mountains as an objective point, as everything that goes to make up an attractive mountain resort is found in this locality.

The Miette Hot Springs will become famous the world over as the efficacy of the waters of these springs for medicinal purposes has been proved, and for bathing purposes are without comparison.

There are four springs with temperatures as follows: 111, 116, 122 and 127 deg.

A prominent member of one of the large wholesale dry goods houses of Montreal, who has just returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast, including Vancouver and San Francisco, writes the Grand Trunk as follows: "On our trip to the Pacific Coast and return we travelled over ten different railways, making use of the dining car service on each, and would like you to know that we did not find in any case, that the service on the dining cars of other lines was superior to the Grand Trunk Railway and in many cases it was very much inferior. I take this opportunity of informing you as to what we think of the service you are giving on our great Canadian Railway."

Freshman students at Brown are required to wear brown skull caps.
